ISA Certificate in Exercise Prescription for Special Populations (Youth, Elderly & Pregnant)

Course Synopsis

Despite the proven benefits of exercise, there are documented risks associated. Hence this workshop will equip participants with the basic skill of pre-participation screening. In addition, participants will learn skills to enable behavior changes, so they can help others work more effectively towards a healthier lifestyle. General exercise guidelines and recommendations taught in this workshop will be presented using the Frequency, Intensity, Time and Type (FITT) principle, which are core components of exercise prescription.

Course Objectives

Upon successful completion of the course, participants will understand:

- Understand the benefits of physical activity for clients who are pre-adolescent, elderly or pregnant
- Describe developmentally appropriate physical activity programs for pre-adolescents and the elderly, and demonstrate an understanding of age-specific needs and concerns
- Understand the various test protocols/procedures and exercise recommendations for pre-adolescents and the elderly
- Describe the changes that occur during pregnancy and its implications on exercise guidelines
- Discuss exercise recommendations and precautions for pregnant women
